Math Day celebrations - Inspire & Ignite

The birthday of the man who knew infinity was feted as National Mathematics Day with a variety of fun activities across all grades. The first and second graders had fun with shapes and patterns as they beautifully decorated the corridor walls with their colourful chart work.

Third and Fourth Graders immersed themselves in puzzles and hands on activity with matchsticks and coins.

While the fifth graders connected math with art by crafting cubes and cuboids from graph paper, the sixth graders exercised their grey cells with Sudoku challenge.

All in all the students promised to stay inspired by Ramanujan's unconventional approach to Mathematics.

Let's keep the ocean blue!

“Ocean is a blessed treasure, and it's our duty to preserve it!” - Preached the young minds of Sr.KG, as they swore to be a part of the solution and not a part of the pollution.

They took up the responsibility to make their fellow Billabongers aware of the alarming water pollution that threatens Mother Earth. They worked along with their teachers and made poster

This comparing the untouched serene blue waters as bestowed by the creator with that of the ocean tattered by mankind. This mere comparison put the spotlight on the impending issue on water pollution.

Bharatiyar Day Celebration

தமிழன் என்று சொல்லடா தலை நிமிர்ந்து நில்லடா ...

We celebrated Bharatiyar Day with much fanfare and spirit. Dressed up as Maha Kavi, our scholars wowed one and all. The students mesmerised us with vibrant compositions of Bharatiyar songs and delivered inspirational speeches about the literary prowess of the freedom fighter and social reformer.

Our Tamil Faculty Mr. Sathiya had the audience in raptures of delight as he took over as the Chief Vocalist to render Villupattu. This ancient folk art form where narration is interspersed with music was a delight to the eyes and ears as the master and his motley troupe of students regaled the onlookers with interesting titbits on the life of Maha kavi.

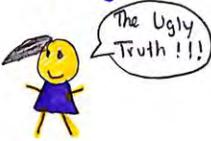

Confused what to read or watch this weekend? Well worry not, here is a book and a movie blog written by the girls of Grade 5. Aashini shares her view on 'Diary of the Wimpy Kid- The ugly truth', while Jiya tells you why 'Finding Dory' is a must watch movie!

NAME: Aashni Date: 19/12/18
Diary of a Wimpy Kid
The Ugly Truth
Author: Jeff Kinney

"The Ugly Truth by Jeff Kinney is a good book but I would like it a little good book for a kid to read.

- If It does not have these inappropriate things in the book and have Adventures instead it would be rated 10.
- The part I thought was funny was when Greg thought he will be a Groomsman but he had to be a Flower boy.
- It is a good story but I would wish it had Adventures and Mystery But it was good Popsicles Anyone?

What would be more fun than learning to make your own popsicles? The children of Grade 4 were excited to try out the recipe they had read in the cookbook available in their school Library. Ms.Charanya the Librarian guided them as they made their very own icy popsicles. This activity encouraged the children to work together and apply their knowledge gained in math and science.

Making popsicles was surely a lesson in the three states of matter...with a very sweet ending.

The Joy of Christmas:

@KKEL

Dashing through the streets of Kelambakkam came Santa Clause, laden with chocolates and gifts to greet the students of KKEL. He was taken aback to find an entire party awaiting him dressed up in the brightest of reds and whites. The tiny tots were geared up to entertain the gathering and spread the message of joy and togetherness as they recapitulated the values of the festival through an enactment.

@BHIS-K

The magic of Christmas has been enchanted upon BHIS-K.

Christmas is for happiness, for giving and for spreading love. The Billabongers came together and shared the merriment as they decorated their respective classrooms welcoming Christmas and a new year! Innovative Christmas trees, decorated chimneys, paper snow-flakes and festive greetings filled the walls of the school as the children merrily worked together and waved the magic wand of festivity all around them.

And what followed was an extravaganza Christmas celebration. Ananthithaa and Pratyush of Grade 4 hosted the programme immaculately. A fancy dress competition added shimmer and oomph to the celebration as the children came dressed up representing a range of characters, ideas and concepts. Samyak of Grade 3 banded the 1st prize for his creative presentation of a grieving Mother Earth.

Following this, students from Freedom House presented a skit highlighting the value of helping others and those in need. And that's when Santa came dashing in with chocolates and his thundering laughter. The delight was uncontained as the children enjoyed the presence of Santa Clause. The school choir sang a series of Christmas carols lifting the spirit of festivity and hope amongst everyone gathered.

Hence, concluding a wonderful year 2018 in a grand way, we take a step towards welcoming a magnificent New Year 2019.

May this New Year bring happiness, peace and good health to all of us.

The Family of BHIS-K wishes you all a prosperous New Year 2019!
