A new beginning

Vijayadashami signifies auspicious new beginnings and on this day special prayers are offered to God for knowledge and enlightenment. It is considered that writing on grains denotes the acquisition of knowledge which leads to prosperity. Our new Kangaroo kids of BHIS-K wrote their first letters and took their first step towards a journey of acquiring knowledge and skills. They then went on to cast their handprints thereby treasuring the memories of their first day forever.

Learning from Nature

The study on the resources was made interesting for the 5th graders through a walk around the school campus. The definition of the resources was discussed and the children explored the campus to identify the natural resources. The discussion that followed enabled the children to differentiate the natural and manmade resources. This activity helped encourage the observational and analytical skills of the Billabongers.

Got them thinking !!

A hypothetical situation was given to the 4th graders to instill imagination. The active thinkers shared their views about life without electricity. The young minds were finding it hard to visualize the possibility of progress and carrying out day to day activities without electricity. However some children had a different view altogether, they expressed that there would be a reduction in pollution and more family time due to lack of devices if there was no electricity. It was indeed a good session which was an ice-breaker to the topic.

Retracing History

60,000 years back Homo sapiens migrated to the various parts of the world and established themselves to create the world that we know of today. The 6th graders recreated this great human migration by retracing the steps of their ancestors and travelling the paths that were travelled millions of years back. This real-time tour in groups was indeed fun as they had to get the right numbers in the lucky draw to advance to the next destination. And once they reached a new land they were enlightened on the history and trivia related to that location. A unique way of understanding history, isn't it?
